Hydrologist Warns Against Pollution

A West Texas State University hydrologist told Randall County commissioners Monday county residents who dig waste disposal bore hole cess pools near their water wells must be saved from their own folly.

Bob Winn, assistant professor of geology, appeared before commissioners just after a group of drilling company officials told commissioners they believe they can police their own industry to protect county residents.

Commissioners stressed they want to avoid regulating the drilling of water and cesspool holes in the county if the drilling companies in the area can provide adequate guidelines and proof they can alleviate a potentially dangerous water table pollution situation themselves.

Winn sounded the warning on water pollution when he noted that no matter how deep a water well and how shallow a bore hole, the waste will seek the water table and eventually, he surmised, water pollution will result.

The WTSU hydrologist said he has pictures of waterwells and waste bore holes drilled within 50 feet of each other.

A main concern, he said, is mobile home parks, where the tendency is to dig a water well at one end of a mobile home and a cesspool hole at the other end.

This, he contended, is "playing with disaster."

Winn said a safe distance between water wells and cess pools should be maintained, a distance of more than 300 or 400 feet to ensure waste does not pollute a water system.

"In the aquifer system we've got, we need to take all the precautions we can," he said. "From my experience and what I know about bore holes, I'd be against them. A septic tank system is all right."

Winn suggested commissioners study each case of drilling before it was allowed to ensure a resident did not drill his water well and cess pool bore hole too close together.

Earlier in the Monday meeting, four representatives of area drilling companies told commissioners they believe they can handle the bore hole problem if allowed to.

The drillers tended to minimize the danger involved in digging wells and bore holes closer together due to the great depth of the water table in much of the county.

"We're concerned about polluting a man's well," said Pete Brown of G.L. Brown Drilling Co. "We couldn't stay in business if we did that."

Brown said he feels the bore holes being drilled at depths of 30 to 40 feet are not capable of polluting the water table.

Commissioner Paul Lindsey suggested the drilling companies work with Winn to establish a set of guidelines on how wells and bore holes will be handled in the county, with an eye toward policing their own industry.

"I'd rather you police your own industry rather than the county get involved," Lindsey said.

"If you gentlemen don't take care of this business, we'll be compelled to do it," said commissioner Jim Fletcher.

Monday's discussion of the bore hole drilling situation in the county was the result of last week's presentation to the commission by James Wilson of the Texas Water Quality Board in Amarillo. Wilson had told commissioners they can regulate the drilling of bore holes in the county.

Celia Aguillera, whose picture appeared on the front page of The News two weeks ago as she admired a spring flower, went back outside early this week to note the change in Panhandle weather. About four inches of snow fell in Canyon over the weekend, stranding hundreds of motorists.

Boycott And Price Ceilings Won't Affect Meat Prices, Prof. Says

Neither last week's nationwide boycott of meat nor President Nixon's recent imposition of meat price ceilings will have much effect on the price of meat, a West Texas State University economist said Tuesday.

"Probably the boycott will not have any appreciable effect on meat prices unless people reduce their consumption of meat on a long-term basis," said Frank Dillard, assistant professor of economics at WTSU.

And, any prolonged boycott of meat would have effects on the market for only a limited period of time, he said.

Dillard said the President's action of imposing a ceiling on meat prices will not be a meaningful ceiling on prices particularly because he feels the price of pork had already reached a peak and beef prices were near a peak.

"President Nixon was under a great deal of pressure to do something to stop the increasing prices of meat," he said. "I think the President felt that basically the government should not intervene in these markets and then when he felt the prices had peaked, he put a ceiling on more as a political act than an economic act."

In reviewing developments which spurred the meat boycott last week and the President's action, Dillard said no one single cause could be singled out to place the blame for the rising costs of meat.

One cause, he said, was an increased cost of feed. The tremendous increases in feed grain costs were due primarily to the sale last summer of about one-fourth of the annual domestic production of wheat to the Soviet Union.

"Another important factor in the United States as well as the rest of the world is the rapidly rising incomes in a number of countries," he said.

Dillard said beef consumption has a tendency to increase in direct relationship to an increase in levels of income. As their incomes rise, people tend to eat more beef.

Part of the increase in price was the result of a demand increasing at a more rapid rate than the available supply.

Even with the relaxation of beef import restrictions into the U.S., the beef supply here was not appreciably increased — at least not enough to meet increased demands.

High prices paid by housewives at the market for pork products are probably the result of a significant reduction in pork production in 1971 com-

Stranded Motorists Find Safety From Blizzard

The blizzard that swept into the Panhandle Saturday caught hundreds of persons away from home, many of them in Canyon where they were put up for the night at West Texas State University, motels and even the county jail.

More than 100 stranded motorists were kept on the WTSU campus, about 20 spent the night in the courthouse, and most of the city's motels were filled to capacity.

The operation put in motion at WTSU brought praise from university officials and from persons who had been cared for.

According to Dean Weldon Trice, coach Jerry Behrens was responsible for setting up temporary quarters for from 95 to 100 persons at Stafford Hall.

Students pitched in by helping bring in stranded people, gathering up blankets, linen and towels, and by caring for their guests in general, said Dean Trice.

The dean said Stafford Hall was used to house families, with women and girls on one end and men and boys on the other.

According to initial figures, six single girls were kept at Brown Hall and a few others at Cross Hall.

Six single men were housed at Jarrett Hall, Dean Trice said.

"Our students really took over Stafford Hall," said Trice, "A bunch of young men did an outstanding job in gathering up blankets and other items." Blankets were one of the greatest problems, the school official said.

Dean Trice said he had written letters of commendation to all students he was able to identify by name. "I'm sure there were others whom I did not know," he added.

Coach Behrens and many of the students worked well into the morning Sunday, until all who needed help were taken care of.

One of those stranded by the snow and unable to return to his Amarillo home was Bruce Romig, public information officer at Texas State Technical Institute. He and his 12-year-old daughter spent the night Saturday in Stafford Hall.

Said Romig, "They did a fantastic job. We had attended 'Carnival' and when we left the theatre found that we were unable to get back to Amarillo."

Romig said that Behrens, in

Federal Money In, County Eyes Budget

The influx of federal revenue sharing money continues in Canyon and Randall County.

While city commissioners have earmarked their federal money for future construction of a civic center complex, county officials are still debating what to use their government money on.

County Judge Woody Pond received Monday a revenue sharing check for $24,112, which is one-fourth of the 1973 federal allocation to the county.

If the other three federal checks are that amount, the county will receive just under $20,000 more this year than last from the federal government.

City Manager George Loudder also received Monday a federal check for $26,148. Again, if this year's other three city checks are that much, the city will receive about $15,000 more than was received in 1972.

Randall County received about $83,000 in federal money in 1972 and already $67,000 of that has been spent.

A sizeable chunk of the 1972 federal money went to pay salaries of sheriff's deputies and probation officials. The county also purchased two radar units for about $4,000, donated $5,500 to the City of Amarillo health unit, and turned over $3,100 to the City of Amarillo for an urban transportation study.

With the new check which arrived Monday, commissioners are still contemplating ways to spend it.

County Judge Woody Pond told commissioners Monday that before the money can be spent, the county must report to the federal government how the money will be spent.

"One place we have to spend the money is on improvement of the (South Amarillo courthouse) annex," said Paul Lindsey.

Jim Fletcher warned against using the money for salary supplementation.

The commissioners generally agreed the money should be spent on a one-time project.

City commissioners have already set aside the almost $86,000 received last year in federal revenue sharing money and will

Women's Group Volunteers To Help School Teachers

The Canyon School Board, intact following the election Saturday, discussed more than 20 topics Tuesday night, and heard reports from two school departments and an offer of voluntary help from one women's club group.

After canvassing the weekend election results, and swearing Harold Erwin and Richard Pruett in for another term, members elected Tom Keeling as president for the coming year, replacing Dr. Dudley Moore.

In addition to naming Keeling president of the board, members selected Ed Wieck as vice president, Richard Pruett as secretary, and R.B. Richardson as associate secretary.

Representing the newly formed women's club, Canyon Junior Forum, Mrs. Virginia Cotton told the board that the club wished to volunteer their talents and skills to the school system by helping with various non-teaching chores.

Among the tasks the women would be willing to perform, said Mrs. Cotton, would be library chores, record keeping, playground supervision, nursing duties and any other feasible operations.

Mrs. Cotton and her companions in attendance said they did not want to replace teachers or other school personnel but rather hoped to be able to take some of the workload from teachers who are now overburdened with extra duties.

"We don't want to grade papers," said Mrs. Cotton as an example of the duties the women would not expect to inherit.

The women present cited the varied skills their club could offer, including nursing. The club roster contains two registered nurses, Mrs. Cotton said.

Board members appeared receptive to the offer made by the women, who insisted that the board set guidelines that would protect both the school system and the individual members.

"We need to know exactly what would be expected of us," said Mrs. Cotton.

Canyon Big Brothers Gain Veteran Sociologist's Help

A veteran social worker and social work administrator has agreed to act as consultant to the Big Brothers of Canyon during their organizational period, according to announcement this week by President Jim Ashford.

Clark Wooldridge, assistant professor of social work at West Texas State University, will act as coordinator of Big Brother services as the new Canyon agency begins operation.

Woolridge, who has been on the screening committee of Big Brothers of Amarillo, accepted the position Monday. He hopes to open his Canyon office in the near future.

Already the Big Brothers of Canyon has begun accepting referrals and screening potential big brothers. They also have an office in the Lindsey Land and Cattle Co. building.

As consultant, Wooldridge will act as executive director on a part-time basis for the organization during the formative months of its existence.

He sees his job as go-between for the Amarillo and Canyon agencies until an executive director is needed here.

Besides his function as administrative head of the agency here, Wooldridge will also attempt to raise money for the functioning of Big Brothers in Canyon.

Currently, board members are eyeing ways of financing their venture and a principal idea is the selling of sustaining memberships.

Wooldridge hopes to gain donations from local service clubs and other organizations as well.

A native of Brownwood, Wooldridge has been in social work since 1954, when he says the typical stereotype of the social worker was of the little old lady with tennis shoes.

He began his social work career in 1954 following graduation from the University of Texas with a degree in psychology as assistant probation officer in Bexar County.

In 1958, he received his masters degree in social work, and joined the Family Service Bureau in Houston.

Since that time, Wooldridge has been involved with juvenile probation, family services and more recently with hospital administration. He came to West Texas State after two years as assistant administrator of the Amarillo Hospital District and manager of the psychiatric pavilion.

Bid Date Due Delay On Hospital

With an eye toward ever-rising construction costs, board members of the South Randall County Hospital District learned Monday night they face further delay in the letting of bids for a new 50-bed hospital for Canyon.

In the absence of administrator Ray Grimes, Board member Bill Sternenberg told directors they can expect another delay in the letting of bids for the hospital, which is expected to cost about $1.6 million.

Architect Bill O'Connell was due in Canyon Wednesday to continue plan discussions with Grimes.

It had been hoped bids would be called for by April 1.

"You realize prices are going up every day, don't you?" Vernon Harman asked rhetorically.

No Dye Needed On These Eggs

The Rit dye people have nothing on chickens.

What Rit dye is doing for chicken eggs this Easter season, a particular breed of chicken has been doing on its own for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hinders of east of Canyon have ready-dyed Easter eggs thanks to their Araucana chickens, which lay eggs of blue, green, pink and olive drab naturally.

Mrs. Hinders said nothing is added to the feed of the chickens, which have an unusual appearance in their own right, to produce the colored eggs.

The Araucana chickens were originally discovered in Chile in South America in the early 1880s when they were being raised by the Araucana Indians.

The chickens were introduced in the United States about 1950.

When the Hinders purchased a farm in the Wayside Community about a year ago, two Araucana chickens came with it. Attracted by the uniqueness of the chickens themselves, the Hinders, unknowing of the chickens' abilities to lay colored eggs, purchased a rooster in northwest Amarillo.

It wasn't long before they found out about the eggs.

Now, the Hinders have about 60 of the Araucanas, including 24 chicks.

"We plan to build a big flock," Mrs. Hinders said.

As far as they know, the Hinders are the only persons raising the different-looking chickens in this area. Primarily, they are starting a large flock to sell the eggs through health food

The news reporter shield law is not good.

I agreed with the Supreme Court when it ruled that reporters must testify before grand juries if called upon to do so.

I don't think a newspaperman should be given any privileges not available to the general public. The new shield law provides that a newsman does not have to testify in court as to his sources.

It is true, if a news reporter divulges his sources it often dries up those sources and cuts off news that is vital to the public.

I think an individual news reporter just has to decide for himself whether he should buck a court order to testify and face possible contempt charges. If he chooses to do so he can avail himself of due process of law in each individual case.

This is all the protection the average citizen has and is all the protection a news reporter is entitled.

The shield law is filled with danger.

The first question that comes to mind is: Who is a news reporter? Reporters are not licensed so as yet there is no legal definition for that profession.

What constitutes a newspaper? A publication run on a legally specified type of press and of a given circulation?

A mimeographed sheet distributed to a dozen people?

There is no legal definition.

So any underworld group in the toils of the law could overnight turn out something purported to be a newspaper and thus make every member of the gang unavailable to the courts.

Judges and public officials have in the recent past abused news reporters. These same people abuse the general public.

Newspaper people know they are in a tough field when they hire out. If they use it wisely they still have the most powerful tool in the history of man at their disposal—the printed word.

If they need more protection than that they should get out of the newspaper business.

Well, I went on a nation-wide search for Leo Wyoming last weekend.

I checked telephone directories in some of the major cities on the continent. I called up New York, St. Louis, Houston, Los Angeles, Chicago, Brooklyn, Washington, Hackensack, NJ, and Winnepeg, Canada. No Leo.

Amarillo phone directory seems to be the only one in North America that lists a Leo Wyoming and he never answers the phone.

I did find a Hobby P. Wyoming listed in Manhattan. I talked to Mrs. Wyoming and found that her husband had died 7 years ago.

The family came from Richmond and I was going to check in Virginia but Mrs. Wyoming revealed that her husband wasn't really a Wyoming. "Folks just called him by that nickname," she said. "His real name was William Harvey."

So the trail ended.

I keep hearing from Leo; he has at least two bank accounts and a telephone listing but I've never seen him.

I'm convinced that Howard Hughes will show up before Leo does.

Labor bosses, the real culprits in inflation, are taking out their anger on the farmer who hasn't had a fair break in the market place for the past two decades.

George Meany knows about as much about farming and cattle raising as you would expect any ex-plumber to know.

What would one of his auto workers say if he went to work some fine morning and found out he would be working for nothing for the next year.

That's about what has happened to cattlemen in the West and Mid-west. Herd deaths already are as high as 40 per cent and still mounting.

Rendering plants are working around the clock and they'll be busy for days to come.

As much as 7 feet of snow has fallen in some parts of the cattle belt of Colorado. The calf crop in those areas was wiped out.

When I hear Meany, Muskie and other national leaders laying into the farmer I get mad.

Roll back prices? Fine, as long as we keep them in parity with wages, cost of machinery and other things the farmer uses.

Wipe out subsidies? Great, but let's be consistent and scuttle collective bargaining, minimum wage and protective tariffs.

Instead of boycotting meat, the United States had better become expert in the care and feeding of farmers because the farmer is the only hope this country has in the war in which we are now engaged.

We are locked in a battle to keep the dollar afloat and the best weapon the Administration has is farm products. Agriculture is a field in which we still excel.

We had better see that the American farmer gets his fair share or before long we may not be able to buy a steak at any price.

Randy Carver

Actor Randy Carver A 'Jesus Person'

Jesus.

"I'm a Jesus Person and I believe that nothing happens because of luck."

The evidence is there for Randy Carver and he gives credit where he believes credit is due.

For Carver, a West Texas State University graduate starring in a religious film now showing in Canyon, there is no separation of the spiritual and his motivation, and intentions, his abilities and his successes.

It's all together. It's all wrapped up in Randy Carver and it centers around Jesus.

In "Time To Run," which is showing at the Olympic Theatre here, Carver portrays Jeff Cole, a college student at odds with his father, an aggressive scientist.

Their relationship degenerates until Cole is forced to leave home and seeks himself on the highways.

The movie ends, of course, with Cole coming face-to-face with the reality of Jesus.

With semi-long brownish hair, faded blue jeans, a denim workshirt, Carver in person resembles Carver on film outwardly only.

Because Randy Carver is a Jesus Person.

And, he believes God is in charge of his life and his career.

With quick hand movements, Carver looks you square in the eye and minces no words as he frankly explains why he believes and what he believes.

He'd had all the doubts, the nagging egoistic feeling that he alone managed his own fate, the questioning of the existence of God.

Carver's involvement in the world of film has corresponded with a growing awareness and growing belief in God.

While a student at WTSU, Carver played minor roles and a major role in stage productions.

One summer, he played a minor character in the musical-drama "TEXAS."

And, following that, he played a bit part in Midnight Cowboy, a popular movie.

Then, after a two-year stint in the Army as a tank platoon leader, Carver returned to his Amarillo home.

"I'd saved quite a bit of money and I decided to go to California," he said.

He signed up for graduate school at UCLA and finally got an agent.

Through his agent, he landed several small parts in television shows like "Emergency," "Room 222," and "The Waltons."

But, he kept waiting for a break.

It was before and during this period of Carver's life that he says he began turning his life over to God, asking Him to direct it and lead it.

It was also during his early months in California that Carver began dating Barbara Sigel.

"I was upon a contract for Universal and I didn't know whether they'd sign me or they wouldn't," he said. "So, I got down to it and I said, 'OK God, it's up to you.'

"Three days later Barbara called me and I got the part in 'Time to Run.'"

"Time to Run" is out now, with preview showings all over the country, and Carver is waiting to see what will happen next.

"I haven't worked since December and I don't know whether I will again," he said.

But, he's hoping. He believes his talents lie in the film industry, he enjoys it and he wants it to be his career.

"Time to Run" is showing in Canyon at the Olympic Theatre at 7:30 and 9:15 p.m. each night through Saturday. Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children at the door.

Liquor Hearing Set Friday

Another hearing on a request to license a liquor store in South Amarillo is set Friday afternoon in county court here.

Last Friday, several residents protested the licensing.

R. C. Hamblin of Amarillo has filed for a license to build a Judge Roy Bean Liquor Store at 34th and Wimberley in Amarillo.

The rehearing on his last week's hearing will be at 4 p.m.

Judge Woody Pond postponed a decision on the license question last week due to the protest and to certain discrepancies in the address given for the liquor store location.

Locals Named Coop Officers

One area man was elected and another area man was renamed to positions in the Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc., during a membership meeting last week.

Joe Wieck of Umbarger was named secretary-treasurer, and H. M. Kinsey of Happy was re-elected a board member during the annual meet held in Tulia.

Mrs. Ruth Holladay of Canyon presented a comedy skit as entertainment during the meeting.

Earl Reynolds of Canyon is currently serving a term as director.

Canyon Clubs Win Host Of Honors

Canyon clubwomen and federated clubs swept a lion's share of honors and awards at the Top of Texas District Convention held Friday and Saturday, April 6-7, in the Activities Center at West Texas State University.

A total of 327 women from the Panhandle registered for the two-day annual meeting, according to Mrs. Don Max Vars, district president.

Many of the awards were announced at a Saturday evening banquet in the East Cafeteria. State Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo was the main speaker, talking on "Justice and America."

Earning top places for total points earned on club scoreboards were Canyon Study Club in the junior division and University Study Club in the senior division.

Three Canyon women were named as Top of Texas District "Outstanding Clubwoman." They are Mrs. Larry Brandon of Heritage Woman's Club in the junior division, Mrs. Wayne Wirt of University Study Club in the senior division for women who have been members less than 10 years, and Mrs. T. G. Hull, Jr., in the senior division for women who have been members more than 10 years.

Other awards were also gleaned by Heritage Woman's Club, Canyon Study Club, and University Study Club.

Heritage Woman's Club won junior club first-place awards in conservation, arts, and home life; second-place awards in education, public affairs, and Texas heritage; and a third place award in the arts.

Canyon Study Club won junior club first-place awards in education, the arts, international affairs, and public affairs; and a second-place award in home life.

University Study Club earned senior club first-place awards for programs in conservation, environmental responsibility, education, arts, and home life, and for projects in education and the arts. The club won second-place awards for programs in education, home life, public affairs, and arts; and for projects in Texas heritage.

Among standing committee award winners, University Study Club merited first place for publicity and public relations. Canyon Study Club and Heritage Woman's Club both received a first-place award for yearbooks. Canyon Study Club also earned a first-place membership award.

In the poet laureate competition, Mrs. Charlotte McClure of University Study Club received a second-place award.

Canyon clubs competed with 75 other women's clubs in the Top of Texas District for honors received. Other awards in the "Fashions for Fun" and Arts and Crafts divisions were also handed out.

TO ALL TEXAS COWBELLES AND OTHER INTERESTED PEOPLE:

A proposed legislative bill, called HR 6168, sponsored by the Chairman of the Banking and Currency Commission, Mr. Wright Patman of Texas, is scheduled to go before the House of Representatives in the very near future. This proposed piece of legislation will require that all food prices, including those of beef, be frozen at the January 10, 1973 level.

As President of your Association, I have been advised by the American National Cattleman's Association office in Washington, D.C., that this bill has potential tremendous hazards to our industry.

It is suggested that we let our Congressmen know of our feelings. If this legislation were enacted it would mean that the entire beef industry would be locked into a 50 to 75 dollar per head loss. This loss is absolutely guaranteed because cattle, at the feedyard level, are already inventoried into pens at prices that cannot be changed. At the producer level, this would mean a reduction in value of at least $10.00 per hundred weight on a 600 pound yearling steer. THIS IS SUICIDE!!

If the American consumer, who evidently desires beef, wants it at a cheaper price, what Patman's committee is trying to do will ultimately create the greatest shortage of beef in our history. No rancher or feeder is knowingly going to produce meat in an impossible loss situation.

We would like to request that you, as a spokesman for the beef industry, write, or better yet, WIRE, your Congressmen in Washington and let them know of your feelings in regard to HR 6168.

Speak your mind on this situation. After all, we have a right to be heard. Let Washington know that there are two sides to a beef carcass.

Thank you,

Blizzard Results In Snowbound Houseparty

By MILDRED TURNER

BURR-R-R-R. SATURDAY EVENING was an ideal time to sit by the fire and visit with friends. Cleve and Elizabeth Rainwater were out and suddenly it began to lightening and thunder. Already the snow had covered the sheet of ice on the ground. We have heard several remarks by old-timers that they had never seen it this way. Our guests insisted they had to go on home, but after several attempts up the hill, they returned to spend the night. Danny Joe Mullins was also here. We tease him a lot about getting snowed in at our house! He likes to sleep by the fire, so he had to bring a mattress out of the attic. Belva, Janet and Sheree tortured him with records and games.

I TOLD ELIZABETH I'd share my P.J.s with her, which half would she prefer? She chose the bottom, but she would rather have some with feet, she joked. To her great surprise I brought out my red bunny suit with feet! (A gift from a niece). Cleve was more worried about his toothbrush. Since I was fresh out, I suggested a tree limb. We had not visited with the Rainwaters lately so instead of games we talked ninety-to-nothing until a little after 1:00 a.m.

SUNDAY MORNING THE Vaughn's peach tree, in full bloom, looked so strangely sad, out of place, even in all its beauty, as the snow completely surrounded it. We decided to walk to church since Danny had already got his car stuck in the snow. Pearl Vaughn, next door, joined us as Janet, Danny, Sheree, Cleve, Elizabeth and I walked to church. We had seen the Moore's as they walked by earlier. There is a narrow place in the creek where a log has been placed and you hardly get wet if you balance carefully. No one actually fell in, just almost. The walking was slick and treacherous as we grabbed tree limbs or one another for support. We had to walk single file a lot of the time and the snow, already drifted, was still falling. Once I dropped my Bible which slid within inches of the creek. Cleve fell but was up before I could lift my camera. Elizabeth resembled a duck as she wobbled along in Garland's boots. We called her "Sister Big Foot" (Rainwater). Danny Joe fell also, but being well padded, no bones were broken.

THOUGH THE CROWD was small, everyone was eager and willing to worship together. Our class was very edifying. Jarriel Moore taught out of the 13th chapter of I. Corinthians. There was a precious, cheerful spirit of worship in the singing. A young fellow, Leigh Rawlings, who is going to W.T. and studying for the ministry, brought an inspiring message. I admire and appreciate this dedicated young man. May God continue to bless him as he grows and matures in the knowledge of Him.

'Twas a Sheep, Not a Lamb

'Twas a sheep, not a lamb, that strayed away
In the story Jesus told;
A grown up sheep that had gone astray
From the ninety and nine in the fold.

Out on the hillside, out in the cold,
'Twas a sheep the Good Shepherd sought;
And back to the flock, safe in the fold
'Twas a sheep the Good Shepherd brought.

And why for the sheep should we earnestly long,
And as earnestly hope and pray?
Because in danger, if they go wrong
They will lead the lambs astray.

For the lambs will follow the sheep, you know,
Where ever the sheep may stray;
When the sheep go wrong, it will not be long
Till the lambs are as wrong as they.

And so with the sheep we earnestly plead,
For the sake of the lambs today;
If the lambs are lost, what a terrible cost
Some sheep will have to pay!

Author unknown

THE STRECKERS (WITH chains on) gave us a lift home, although Elizabeth could hardly get her big feet in, could almost turn around without moving her feet.

DURING THE AFTERNOON we took pictures, watched the birds, just visited. The Rainwaters especially enjoyed the cardinals and were so surprised to see a whole tree busy with Robins when they feed so blessed to have two in the yard. Elizabeth told how their quail come to feed about three times daily and if it's cold, they form a circle with the heads on the outside of the circle and huddle for an hour or so before going on.

DURING THE SNOW storm we all had a few anxious moments for Carolyn and Dan Bailey who are expecting their baby any minute now. It would have been an ideal time for a sled ride to the hospital. Their friends, Orville and Grace Ladahoff, let them know they were standing by with the four-wheel drive scout. I turned my phone up; all was alert and waiting. . . still waiting. . . will let you know.

WHEN I TALKED with Bill Tucker I asked "Got any news?" He was like so many of you have said, "It's all on me, and I'm not talking!" Bill is a man of few words so when he said he took the Canyon News so he could read the column, I thanked him most sincerely. Speaking of news, some of you have not called me lately! I was deeply hurt here a while back while talking to a couple of dear neighbors and I merely asked, "What do you know?" He answered, "If we told you, you'd put it in the paper!" Well, I only put a little drop of what I know in the paper. Sometimes someone will talk for twenty minutes, give me a bunch of goodies, and pause for breath with "Now don't put that in the paper." Because I love all of you, I try to abide by your wishes, but as you can see I need to know what you are doing. Your neighbors also like to know.

WHY, I'VE HEARD a lot I have not put in the paper! One lady, who got her foot hung in the fork of a tree as she was attempting to hang a bird house, pulled her foot free only to lose her balance and get hit by the ground! There was a man, across the creek so sick he vomited up his teeth which broke when they fell in the commode! A certain lady left her purse in a restaurant while on a ski spree. Another lady (on the same ski spree) forgot to take her clothes! One lady, worried about her electric bill, got her nose caught in the freezer door as she tried to determine if the light stayed on when she closed the door! So you see, I don't tell all I know!

SEE YOU NEXT week.

ZTA Alumnae Elect Officers

Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae Chapter recently met in the home of Mrs. Don Byars, 13 Country Club Drive, for the election of officers.

Those elected for the coming 1973-74 year were Mrs. Ronnie Mankin, president; Mrs. Genelle Bourland; vice-president; Mrs. Jim Dawson, secretary-historian; and Mrs. Gene Stores, treasurer. The installation of officers will be April 30, 1973, in the home of Mrs. Huelyn Laycock, 2619 4th Ave.

Following a short business meeting, the group was served refreshments by the hostess, Mrs. Byars, and co-hostesses Mrs. Roy Lyles and Mrs. Dick Dawdy.

Lawrence and Ruth Hinders of west of Canyon hold two of their Araucana chickens and the multi-colored eggs the chickens produce. The Hinders are raising the chickens and have a flock of about 60.

Party Celebrates Sixth Birthday

Andrea Vise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrell Vise of 708 Foster Lane, celebrated her sixth birthday on March 24 with a party in her home. An "old-fashioned girl" theme was carried out in decorations and favors.

Guests played games and enjoyed icecream, cake and punch. They included Kristie Wiggins, Kara Pruett, Lora Wilkerson, Kimberly Baker, Davalyn Webb, Cathy Murphy, Emily Baker, and her sisters, Elaina and Stephanie Vise.

Bible Chair Holds Annual Fellowship

Central Church of Christ representatives from the area met for the Annual Bible Chair Fellowship on Friday evening, April 6, in the East Cafeteria at WTSU.

The speaker for the evening was the Rev. Bob Shepard, director of the Bible Chair at Central State in Edmond, Okla., who will be moving here June 1 to begin serving as director of the Bible Chair.

The evening began with a banquet, followed by program. Gordon L. Downing, present director of Bible Chair, was master of ceremonies. Dr. James P. Cornette welcomed those attending, and Rev. W. Dwyane Dennis, minister of Canyon's Central Church of Christ, introduced the speaker. Congregational singing was led by Dr. George Umberson, head of the music department at WTSU.

WT Netters Rebound With Wins

After taking a pair of defeats this past weekend in their own tournament, West Texas State University's tennis players rebounded with early week wins over Texas A&M and Odessa College.

The Buffaloes of coach David Kent fell to nationally ranked Oklahoma City University and defending Big Eight Conference champion University of Oklahoma in the West Texas State Team Tournament. The Buffs had opened the tourney with an 8-1 win over Missouri Valley Conference rival New Mexico State.

OCU edged the Buffaloes 6-3 and Oklahoma took a narrow 5-4 decision.

Kent's netters rebounded strongly Monday with a 7-2 victory over the Texas Aggies and gained revenge on an early season 5-4 loss. The Buffs downed Odessa College Tuesday afternoon.

The Buffaloes travel to Oklahoma City for some more tough playing Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the Oklahoma City Invitational. OCU will host that tourney and other teams entered are Oral Roberts University, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Northwest Louisiana and North Texas State.

Tuesday's match with Odessa was the final home match for the Buffaloes this year. They were scheduled to face Baylor April 20, but the Bears were forced to withdraw from that match because they were unable to make proper plane connections.

Students Ballot At University

Students at West Texas State University go to the polls Tuesday and Wednesday to vote on several propositions and to elect new officers.

Several propositions effect student government and would become effective upon passage in 1974-75.

Among the propositions is a so-called "Student Bill of Rights," which was recently adopted by students at Texas Tech.

The bill calls for no abridgement of free speech and states that student disciplinary records would remain secret.

Students will also elect senior, junior and sophomore senators and cheerleaders.

Educators' Group To Install Officers

The Zeta Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will have a formal initiation for new members at the YWCA in Amarillo, Thursday evening, April 12, at 6 p.m.

A dinner will follow at 6:30 p.m. to honor the new members.

Mrs. Donna Wilson, Zeta Delta president, and Mrs. Charlotte Brantley and her ceremony committee will be in charge of the ceremonies.

Hostesses will be Inez Parkey, Jo Hardcastle, Valice Bryan, Mattie Bull, Cleo Lindsey, Elvira McKissick, and Marjorie Rogers.

Delta Kappa Gamma is an honorary society for women educators. Their purpose is to advance the professional interest and position of women in education by sponsoring and supporting legislation, endowing scholarships, and stimulating professional growth.

Mrs. Bolte Hosts Highland Club

Highland Home Demonstration Club chose Mrs. Melvin McClure as their "Woman of the Year" at a meeting held March 28 in the home of Mrs. Siegfried Bolte.

Mrs. James Janssen presided at the meeting. Council reports were given and plans made for Council's Tasting Tea on May 14.

Attending were Mmes. Melvin McClure, Siegfried Bolte, Ervin Podzemny, James Janssen, Clarence Howard, Bernard Grabber, Red Doyle, Warren Thompson, and Boyd Elliott.

For their next meeting, members will gather at Concord House in Amarillo at 10 a.m. for a tour of the furniture store. After lunch at Blackburn's, they will go to the home of Mrs. Fred Oglesby for a business session.

Along the Grapevine

By Mary Alice Hines

TUESDAY NIGHT AS I sat counting money for the American Cancer Drive, I noticed the figures began to blur. My day had started with the breakfast at 7:00 a.m. to kick-off the business drive for the campaign. Then I looked up and there was Carolyn Hunt, Benny Cooper, Ann Thomason, Bonita Oliver and Lloyd Kurtz still going strong, and they had been working all day, too. So, I drank some more coffee, ate a doughnut, and went back to counting.

There are many people involved in these worthy causes that contribute their time and strength.

Just think about the neighborhood workers who were walking house-to-house — brrr! We appreciate all the workers on all the drives who are trying to help their fellow man. Three cheers!

HEY! IT'S SUPPOSED to be Springtime! Jack Frost is supposed to make way for Sylvia Spring! I was one of the hostesses for the Junior Forum meeting Sunday. We had planned an Easter theme with little bunnies, little eggs and little green grass everywhere. Blaahk! The theme ended up as, "How to Pretend it is Spring in the Middle of a Blizzard."

ONE OF THE highlights of 1973 will undoubtedly be the W.T. Fine Arts Department production of "Carnival."

The entire cast was delightful but I must single out the performances of Rene Clemente, Vicki McFarlin and Steve Hilton for extra applause. Steve's strong voice and sensitive portrayal made a beautiful combination. Please try to go see the musical. The final performances are tonight and tomorrow night. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m.

Doris Boles has an excellent exhibition of paintings in the Fine Arts Dept. lounge, for viewing during intermission.

THERE ARE LOTS of people planning trips for the Easter holidays to such places as Acapulco and Hawaii. Call me, all you travelers, when you return and tell me all about your trips.

THE FEDERATED WOMEN'S Club Convention here was a smashing success. Many Canyon women were involved in the planning of it and they were lovely hostesses to the out-of-town women. At the Saturday night banquet several Canyon women won awards. Barbara Wirt was presented an award and her children Debbie Tardy and Vince Wirt gave her a corsage. Debbie and Barbara both ended up rather tearful, it was a touching moment for everyone.

Lila Gay Vars was introducing someone at the banquet by saying something like, "And here is someone you all know and love." Later she introduced her husband, Don Max, by saying, "And here is the man I love." Canyon was privileged to play host to all the area clubwomen.

I WALKED UP to the meat counter at the grocery store the other day. I said to a couple standing there, "Are you boycotting beef?" The people looked up, rather startled. I smiled, picked up some T-Bone steaks and went on about my shopping. I honestly cannot see anything this boycott will help, in fact I feel it will hurt our economy — especially in cattle country. I read where one Eastern woman was asked if she was observing the boycott. "Yes!" she said adamantly and then selected a couple of $5.95 lobsters.

The boycott may discourage many ranchers to stop raising cattle at all, especially after the adverse weather conditions this year. If there becomes a shortage of beef, that is when the price will skyrocket. Only by keeping a plentiful flow of beef through the market can we have any control on the prices.

GLAD TO SEE so many of you out voting this week. Well, that's all for now. Maybe if we can get two days of sunshine in a row, Spring will finally come.

The Dairy Products judging team from Canyon High School's Future Farmers of America organization took first place in district competition held at West Texas State University Saturday. Team members Terry Martin, Jim Grubb and Joe Bailey will enter regional competition April 21 at Texas Tech. Their instructor is Robert Wink.

Book Published By WT Professor

A West Texas State University mathematics professor has just received his first copy of a trigonometry textbook he authored.

William G. Ambrose, who has taught at WTSU six years, received last week the first copy of his "Trigonometry A Functional Approach," from his publisher, Charles E. Merrill Publishing Co.

A graduate of Texas Tech, Ambrose said he is currently finishing up another college text on algebra.

He said he has been using his trigonometry book for classroom use for his students this year. He worked on the book about a year before finding a publisher.

He said the book differs little from other standard textbooks. He wrote the book just because he had always wanted to, he said.

Children Celebrate First Communion

By REBA RAEF

AT THE 10:00 Mass, on Sunday, April 8, five children received their First Holy Communion. Those in the class were: Troy Skarke, son of the Jim Skarkes; Darron Adams, son of the Darroll Adams; Kurt Haschke, son of the Ronald Haschkes; Jennifer Dolle, daughter of the Don Dolles; and Jeanette Grotegut, daughter of the Joe Groteguts. After Mass, they were joined by Joe Beckman, son of the John Beckmans; Freddie Friemel, son of the R.D. Friemels and David Hartman, son of the Bernard Hartmans, who had received their First Holy Communion privately. The mothers of the group served donuts, hot chocolate and coffee to the children and their invited guests.

ST. MARY'S ALTAR Society met Tuesday evening, April 3, in the Catechital building. The date, for general Church cleaning before Easter, was set for April 17. The delegates named to attend the Plainview Deanery meeting, held in Hereford, were Mesdames Max Hoffman, Ronald Haschke, Leonard Batenhorst and Richard E. Friemel.

MR. AND MRS. Richard E. Friemel are grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bezner, of Bushland, have a new little daughter, Claudia Elaine. Mrs. Bezner is the former Jeanette Friemel. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bezner, also of Bushland. Our congratulations to the proud parents and grandparents.

TONIGHT, OUR VOLLEY ball tournament gets under way. The games will be played in the Community building. Lunch will be served all three days of the tournament, so come out and watch the games and eat with us. Remember, the tournament will run three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

IN THE 4-H Food show, held in Amarillo, April 7, Janet Wilhelm and Linda Hartman, who represented Randall County, each won a red ribbon. Linda's entry was in the main dish division and Janet's entry was in the fruits and vegetables division. Congratulations, girls, we're proud of you.

SUNDAY EVENING, APRIL 8, in St. Mary's parish hall, the membership of the Catholic Life Insurance was feted with a barbecued beef dinner, complete with all the trimmings. The guest speaker for the evening was Tom Acker, from Nazareth, who is the District supervisor. Don Dolle is the sales manager for the Umbarger branch. Preparing and serving the dinner were the officers and their wives, the John Wiecks, Vincent Ehlys, Joe Fischbachers, Carl Klueskens and Don Dolles.

WELL, I GUESS this about wraps it up for this time. If you have news for the paper, please feel free to call me. My number is 499-2164.

Track Meet Set For Kids, Inc.

Grade-schoolers in Kids, Inc., will compete in a track meet at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Canyon High School field.

Ribbons will be presented first, second and third place winners.

Tanglewood Vote Names Aldermen

W.H. Gattis, Jack Anderson and Jim Thomas were elected Saturday from a field of five candidates to serve as aldermen in the City of Lake Tanglewood.

The trio finished ahead of challengers G.N. Mounger and Lee Russell.

John Currie, who ran unopposed, was returned to the position of marshal by the voters.

Other members of the city council are Mayor Tom Badrow, and aldermen Sam Hunter and Mrs. Paula Gray.

Canyon Man Wins Award

A Canyon man has been recognized as one of 134 of the nation's outstanding Ford Motor Co. automotive service employees.

Edward Scott, an employee of Sid Stout Ford in Amarillo, won the grand prize — a vacation for two in Hawaii.

News Brief

Directors of the Randall County Farm Bureau will meet at 8 p.m. today in the Farm Bureau Building, according to Joe E. Turpin, president.

Junior Forum Will Assist In Schools

Canyon Junior Forum, a young women's service organization which plans to assist teachers and staff in the public schools, officially got under way with a meeting Sunday afternoon at the Episcopal University Center.

Election of a slate of officers headed by Mrs. Harriet Brandon, president, was one of the first items of business. Other officers are Mrs. Mary Truitt, first vice-president; Miss Mary Lou Farnum, second vice-president; Mrs. Jane Stephens, third vice-president; Mrs. Jill McGregor, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Suanne Keeley, recording secretary; Mrs. Karen Crossland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary Alice Hines, treasurer; and Mrs. Maryada Ritchie, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Brandon, wife of Attorney Larry Brandon and mother of a two-year-old daughter, has been active in club and civic work in Canyon. She was voted Outstanding Junior Clubwoman for 1972-73 by Heritage Woman's Club in Canyon and was also named Outstanding Junior Clubwoman for the Top of Texas District Convention held last weekend in Canyon. She is a member of the board of directors of Canyon Division of Opportunity Plan, and is also advisor and board chairman of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority. Prior to moving to Canyon, she taught English and Spanish in the Waco public schools.

According to a statement by Mrs. Brandon, the charter membership of the group now stands at 24, but will be expanded to about 50 women. Total membership will be limited to 75.

Women between the ages of 20 and 40 who have been sponsored by a member will be eligible to join. The organization is affiliated with Junior Forum International, which has chapters in Louisiana and Texas.

Primarily a service organization, Canyon Junior Forum has chosen as a project for the coming year a volunteer involvement in the Canyon school system. Each member is expected to contribute at least 18 hours during the year in such areas as the libraries, nurse's office, teacher's aide work, playground supervision, and extra-curricular activities. Their efforts are not expected to replace those of any teachers' aides or staff presently employed in the school system.

According to the president, the group has already received an assignment to help with screening of kindergarten students for the next year on May 2. Plans for this project were reported on in Sunday's meeting by Mrs. Jane Stephens, acting chairman of the service committee, assisted by Mrs. Bonita Oliver, Mrs. Linda Ray, Mrs. Jill McGregor, Mrs. Suanne Keeley, and Mrs. Brandon.

On Tuesday prior to the School Board meeting, both Superintendent Jerry Jacobs and Mrs. Brandon expressed confidence that the Canyon School Board would approve this innovation in the public school system. Mr. Jacobs said the opinion of principals and teachers had been sounded out on the project, and they seemed to be in favor of it.

The uniform committee chairman, Mrs. Marsha Murphy, asked for suggestions from the group in Sunday's meeting on styles and colors for uniforms. It was decided to have three-piece navy-blue uniforms with a red emblem on them. Mrs. McGregor, Mrs. Ritchie, and Mrs. Jeane Miller will assist Mrs. Murphy in selecting patterns and materials to be approved by the group.

Women interested in joining the Junior Forum should contact Mrs. Mary Truitt, 655-7280, for information. She is head of the membership committee with Mrs. Janet Hand, Mrs. Nancy Shehan, Mrs. Lou Ann Workman, Mrs. Mary Alice Hines, and Miss Mary Lou Farnum working with her.

The meeting time was set at 1:30 p.m. on every second Tuesday of the month. The next meeting will be May 8 at 1:30 p.m. at the Episcopal University Center. Installation of officers will be held at this meeting. This will be the last meeting of the year.

Officers and members will spend the summer setting up the program of activities for the coming year. The Canyon Junior Forum hopes to receive its charter in September when regular meetings are resumed.

Babe Ruth Trials Set For Today

Babe Ruth League baseball tryouts postponed last Sunday because of the weather have been reset for Thursday at 5 p.m.

The trials will be held at the Babe Ruth field at Conner Park.

All boys ages 13 through 15 are eligible to take part in the program, league officials said.

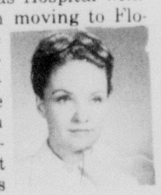
By TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

THE LOVELY LORI Lane, daughter of Barbara and B.L. Rudd, became the bride of the handsome Kent Dyson last Wednesday evening at the Paramount Terrace Christian Church. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Everett, held the reception at her home following the April 4th wedding. Mrs. Dyson will continue her work at Northwest Texas Hospital with an eye to soon moving to Florida, where Kent is presently stationed with the Navy. Canyon is Kent's hometown. Best wishes to this fine young couple!



A FEW OF the younger generation wore holes in their shoes welcoming Kyle Balke's twelfth birthday. Kyle hosted a square dance party and the youngsters do-se-doed to their heart's content Friday night to the calling of Mr. Atkinson. Mr. Atkinson gave the three sets initial instructions on eleven calls, and the energetic youngsters picked it up from there, stopping only long enough to enjoy the popcorn, cokes and donuts. Kyle, the son of Beth and Dick Balke, became older on Thursday, the 5th, but waited til Friday to party in order to share the fun with his friends.

THE NORTHWEST TEXAS Hospital Auxiliary held its installation luncheon April 6 at the Psychiatric Pavilion. Mrs. Harry E. Gladman installed the officers for 1973-1974, with "our" Mrs. Raydell Palmer being installed as president and "our" Mrs. Darlene Campbell being installed as historian. Melvena Brown attended the luncheon as did Dee Delaney, Pauline Hefley and Troyce Mulherin. Dee and Betty Zanchettin and Darlene will serve on the Legislative Committee this coming year. Pauline is in charge of publicity and the Newsletter. Glenna Schmidt will serve as co-chairman of the gift shop located at the Psychiatric Pavilion. Troyce will serve as chairman of Special Treats.

THREE PURPOSES OF the Auxiliary are public relations, volunteer service and fund raising. It has done an excellent job of fulfilling these goals, giving monetarily and sharing many thousands of hours annually with the people in Amarillo and the surrounding areas. Not only that, the Auxilians have had fun and derived great personal pleasure in helping their fellow man. With a theme of "Praying Hands are Working Hands," and the following verse to guide them, it is easy to understand why the Auxilians have been so successful in their endeavors. "If you would climb to heights sublime, give my advice a trial; don't drift and shirk, 'butt in' and work, and Smile! Smile! Smile! ! !"

THE EASTER BUNNY probably won't have any trouble with those eggs, but we people types might have to use snow shoes and wear parkas over our Easter garb to find the pretties. Which brings to mind, Easter holidays for the kids are April 14 through April 23. Back to school on that beautiful day of April 24. (Otherwise known as the day mother devotes to digging the egg shells out of the shag carpeting and locating unfound, soon-to-be-smelling-funny eggies).

THAT EVER SO lucky Melvena Brown is sporting an absolutely beautimous ring given to her by hubby Eldon in observance of their fifteenth wedding anniversary on April 4th. Pretty, pretty, pretty. It is simply lovely, lovely, lovely!

GENE HOWE'S SCHOOL librarian has returned from a three-day Texas Library Association convention held in Fort Worth. Miss Elizabeth Wilson reports that the speakers were informative, the banquets delicious, but that she particularly enjoyed the numerous exhibits.

MICHELLE CARROL IS still confined in Northwest Texas Hospital, and Raydell Palmer asks that anyone able to sit with her on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday nights, anytime between the hours of 11:00 to 6:00, to please call Raydell at 355-3648. All of the Carrolls' many friends have wanted to help them, and this is one way of so doing.

GLENNA AND LEONARD Schmidt have returned from a week long sojourn to Hollywood, Florida. Leonard won the trip sponsored by his company, which sure adds to the ol' enjoyment. They certainly did partake of that ol' enjoyment, too. Glenna enjoyed the shopping, covering the city of Miami in this endeavor, and Leonard managed some golfing. They did what they wanted to when they wanted to, when not involved with the business sessions. The Schmidts visited Glenna's brother in New Orleans, taking in the French Quarter, etc. on to Columbus, Georgia, for more visiting with friends there, before returning home to the youngsters and the facts of life. Lots of fun for a deserving couple.

BRENDA LAWLESS, DEE Delaney, Glandeen Shank and Ernestine Harp were some Gene Howe faces at the golf association coffee held Tuesday the 3rd at the Canyon Country Club. Ernestine is president of the Canyon Ladies Golf Association, and this was its first meeting of the year, observing Guest Day for those interested in joining the association. In addition to the greeting of old and new faces (no pun intended), and consuming their fair share of the goodies, the twenty-five ladies in attendance formulated plans for golf lessons. The lessons, being comprised of four sessions, will start on April 24th. Those interested in taking part in these lessons and not already signed up, feel free to call Ernestine at 355-0028 and get your names on the list.

HURRY, HURRY, HURRY—Call the school with the names of prospective Gene Howe students (age five or six as of September 1). The school really needs this information, so plans can be made for the coming school year.

MRS. MARGIE PHILLIPS is proud as punch of Gene Howe's fifth grade students and their performance on the 3rd before the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association. The youngsters sang a medley of songs telling of the signs of spring, such as ball games, love, kites, rain, and fishing (spring fever types). She mentioned later they might should have tossed in a song about snow.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY meeting of the CCTA was held at Gene Howe this month, with faculty members serving as hostesses and furnishing the refreshments. Parents of the fifth graders were invited to attend the program and join in on the goodies. The usual business of the association was attended to and convention reports given. Needless to say, the program was delightful.

MARK APRIL 30TH on your calendars in red. This is the day the sixth grade choir and the band will perform in spring concerts. Mrs. Phillips and Mr. King and the sixth graders are readying an excellent evening of entertainment. If you don't go, you will really miss something. The concerts will be held at the school at 7:00.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY WISHES to F.P. and Arlean Todd, who observed same Monday the 9th.

ANOTHER DATE FOR your calendars:

ARTS UNLIMITED IS holding its annual Arts and Crafts Show on Friday, April 27, at the Federated Women's Club, 1003 Civic Circle. All kinds of goodies will be on display. Additional feature this year will be a bake sale, held in conjunction with the club's bazaar. Opens at 10:00 and will close at 3:00. Tickets are $1 each, available from a club member (me) or at the door. Door prizes will also be given. It's worth a dollar to have the opportunity to see the varied and extensive crafts and arts done by club members. (Bring pencil and paper and "borrow" some ideas). Excellent time and place to pick up some gifties, either for yourself or a friend. See ya!

HI DORIS.

Mescalero Park News

Boy Scout Roundup Planned In Area

By TOOTIE BYBEE

HELLO AGAIN FROM the North Pole. Or from the land of ice and snow as the case may be. Boy, I sure hope all you guys are remembering to give your birds plenty of water and feed these bad days. It has really been bad on those who came back early. Have had such a gang of birds around the feeders these past few days have had to refill them often. Couldn't hardly keep the ice off the water for them but tried. Saw a huge flock of yellow headed black birds eating out in the pasture with some Herefords the other day. Guess that is one way to get the grain. Watched some jack rabbits grazing with them too. Don't forget your feathered friends.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it—an so do its readers.

IF YOU'RE WONDERING who our sweet new Avon lady is, it is Marion Clements. You just may see her on a bicycle. If you do, don't worry. She can handle it, being a physical education teacher as well. She came by and spent all her time telling me about daughter Cathy's wedding and about her lovely dress for the wedding. Try to keep Barb still long enough to try hers on! Anyway if you need Avon or would like to look over the book, OR hear about the wedding, just give Marion a call, 622-0159.

RAN INTO A Scout master at the Mini Mart the other day. Don't know what it is about me that sticks out that I sure like kids. But anyway, promised I'd mention this in the column for him, so here 'tis. He is very interested in having a round-up for Scouting here in Mescalero or if your son needs in a troop and can't seem to get placed, here is the man to contact. Ladies, what he would like to do is have one of you with a son host a round-up meeting in your home and he would handle all the details. If you are interested, please call and talk to him: John E. Shaw, Jr., 244 La Fiesta Lane, Canyon, Texas, 352-7521. Cub or Boy Scouts. Good luck, John!

THE TOWS WERE really disappointed they didn't get to eat bar-b-que Saturday night. Cause Thursday night they went to a Future Homemakers Supper with daughter Dana and ate bar-b-que, and Friday they went with son Mike for the DE students' supper and did the same so were real upset they didn't have someone to eat with Saturday. Mike won the outstanding salesman award given. Real proud of him.

THE NANCE'S WERE also at the Future Homemakers even with daughter Nina and heard their introduction was quite well received! Also, the Evans, along with daughter Sherry, and don't think they even got to be introduced! Sherry and sister Glenna, along with the rest of the choral group, the Ninety and Nine, entertained for the supper with a few selections, all dressed in their yellow and white. Heard it was just really great!

FOLKS, JUST BE patient with the road situation. Our commissioner is aware of the problem and of course will see that it is tended to as soon as possible. Everyone else in the county is having the same problems. Also, I can see the holes. Guess the cold weather has kept about everyone in this week. There just isn't too much news going.

BARBARA BROOKS WON third place in the Regional Science Fair this week. Good for you Barbara. Her project was the effects of different types of pollution on fish. Know she spent a lot of time on this cause I saw her working away.

THE LADIES THURSDAY met as usual at Mike Whiteheads. Can't say everything they did cause I wasn't there this time. Know they studied their book and ate cause they always do, eat that is.

GEE, YOU GUYS call me and give me some news this week!

SAW RUSSELL ROSS flying a kite and riding a bike at the same time the other day. Also saw Jubal Gillis and Doug Jones out with their kites. Saw Troy Gillis, Barb Rogers and friends sliding down a snow embankment on a snow saucer and having such a good time. Saw Nancy Robinson enjoying the outdoors on her bicycle. Saw Todd Williams jumping on Tracy Cooper's trampoline. Saw Spooky and Shelley's new baby puppies which really belong to their doggie, Princess. Saw Tammy Thompson and Leslie Bybee coming back from Susan Inman's birthday slumber party half asleep, but happy. Saw D.A. Malson doing much much better, in his pick up on Western. Saw some crazy people with the initials of Sam Bybee and I.J. Tow planting trees in a blizzard to get them out. Saw Mr. Flock pushing the snow out of a neighbor's driveway with his tractor and scoop, but missed mine! Saw many people cleaning out their driveways by hand and shovel. Well, will be gone next week, so will catch all the activities the next week I'm back. Have a very Blessed Easter.

Mrs. Floretta Wright, right, accepts a check for $24 from Jeff House, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean House, and Kristi Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Stevens, Tuesday. The check represents money collected by a third grade class at Rex Reeves school and is to be used to purchase books for the school library in memory of Lori Fischbacher, who died recently.

Books Donated In Memory Of Lori Fischbacher

The two dozen children in the third grade class of Mrs. Sue Harper at Rex Reeves Elementary School have presented a $24 check to the school librarian to purchase books in memory of classmate Lori Fischbacher, who died recently.

Mrs. Floretta Wright, librarian, said she has ordered six or seven books with the money collected by the class.

Each book will contain a card which states that it was purchased for the library in memory of Lori.

Mrs. Wright said although books have often been given in memory of administrators or teachers, the classes' idea was the first she'd seen of children collecting money for memorial library books.

Student's Poem Set For Magazine

A French poem, written by a senior student at Canyon High School, has been accepted for publication in a French-Italian Magazine.

"Le Ciel," meaning "The Sky," was written by Jerri Sisk for entry into the Phi Delta Symposium held at West Texas State University in March. According to a spokesman for the Modern Language Department at WT, the work was rated as "excellent" in the symposium competition.

Publication will be in "Chimeres," a French journal published by students of French and Italian at the University of Kansas. The magazine contains scholarly articles and poems in French or Italian.

Miss Sisk is a third year French student of Mrs. Mary Jane Reeves.

These young stars of "Operetta Tonight" performed in a nostalgic program of all-time favorites from classics of light opera Tuesday evening in the Canyon High School auditorium. They are tenor Richard Barrett, soprano Kris Karlowski, mezzo-soprano Lynne Mary Prevot, and pianist Lawrence Skrobacs. Community Concert Association sponsored their appearance.

Employers Feted By CHS "HERO" Class

The Home Economics Related Occupations classes held their Employer-Employee Banquet Tuesday night in the Canyon High School Commons. Members and their employers attended.

Dave Morris served as master of ceremonies. Entertainment for the evening was a skit prepared and produced by HERO students. Members of the skit were David Word, David Townsend, Dave Morris, Larry Hunnicutt, Beverly Podzemny, Debbie Prichard, Debbie Clifton, Debbie Patton and Nancy Boyce.

Awards were made to students who had successfully completed course requirements. Special awards went to Sharon Nickell, Outstanding Home Economics Cooperative Education Student, and David Word, Outstanding HERO Member.

Employers who had served as Advisory Committee members and had employed students for at least two years were awarded Certificates of Appreciation. They were: Mrs. Viola Robins, Advisory Committee Chairman, Gingerbread Nursery; Mrs. C. E. Christy, Advisory Member, Tender Loving Care Nursery; Mrs. C. S. Thompson, Advisory Member, Buffalo Cleaners; Mr. John Sommer, Advisory Member, Principal Canyon High School; Mr. Wes Miller, Saga Food Service; Mrs. Wallace Johnston, First Baptist Nursery; Mrs. Doyle Burt, Two-B Burger.

Tickets On Sale For CHS Banquet

Tickets are available now for the Canyon High School All-Sports Banquet to be held at 7 p.m. April 27 at the Canyon Junior High cafeteria.

Elton Cox, president of the Eagle Booster Club, said tickets may be purchased from his office, First National Bank, West Texas State Bank or from Mrs. Joe Markham.

The banquet will feature food catered by Sutphens of Amarillo.

All costs for the banquet are paid by the Booster Club members.

To be recognized during the evening will be the most valuable players in the various CHS sports. The Fighting Heart Award will be presented a varsity football player.

The football queen, and basketball king and queen will be crowned during the banquet.

A dance for the students featuring the Black Water Draw will be at the J. O. Parker Memorial Center in Canyon following the banquet.

Clark Wooldridge, left, accepted the position Monday as consultant to the Big Brothers of Canyon. He accepted the part-time job Monday during a meeting with Dr. Ross Staton, second from left, Mrs. Beth Garner and Jim Ashford. See story on page 1.

6 CHS Thinclads To Regional Meet

The Canyon High School track team finished second in the District 1-AAA meet held at West Texas State University Saturday and qualified six athletes for the regional meet to be held in Odessa Friday.

The six who won a chance to compete at Odessa were Dwight Harper, Bob Counseller, Chip Van Pelt, Gary Bednorz, Garre LaGrone and Raby Ratliff.

Harper qualified by taking first place in the 880-yard dash with a time of 2:05.1.

Counseller took first place in the discus throw with a distance of 137-10¾, and he captured second place in the shot put event with a throw of 45-8.

Van Pelt finished second behind Counseller in the discus throw with a distance of 130-9¾.

Bednorz took first place district honors in the high jump when he cleared 5-8.

LaGrone picked up a second place finish in the pole vault with a height of 11-6.

Ratliff finished second in the 220-yard dash with a time of 24.5.

The Eagles finished with 112 2/3 team points, behind Perryton's 173.

Dumas took third place with 103 points, Levelland was fourth with 91 1/3, and Muleshoe trailed the pack in fifth with eight.

Coach Ron Mills said he thought his athletes put out their best effort possible and added, "Perryton just had too much power and depth."

Mills also credited Perryton coach Don Beck with doing a fine job of "bringing his team around."

The coach did not predict the outcome of the regional competition Friday but he did say that the teams from the South Texas schools should be in extremely good shape. "They haven't had the bad weather that we have had up here. We have had only one day to run when the weather was good."

School Trustees To Meet Friday

The County Board of School Trustees will meet at 9:30 a.m. Friday in the county judge's office to canvass the votes from Saturday's election and to name a replacement for Bob Skinner, who recently resigned his post.

Oath of office will also be given the winner of Saturday's contested election.

County Judge Woody Pond, who is ex-officio county school superintendent, will also give board members a report on attorney general opinions he received concerning who can and cannot vote in the trustee elections.

Little League Sets Meet For Tonight

The Canyon Little League will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at the West Texas State University fieldhouse for the purpose of registering 8- through 12-year-old baseball candidates, and for collecting player fees.

According to league president Weyman Brown, all candidates in the 8-12 age group who have not turned in their registration cards should attend the meeting.

Team rosters and coaches for the Major League teams are expected to be released following the Thursday meeting, said Brown.

The minor League program will begin shortly after Easter.

Tax Conversion Is On Schedule

The conversion of the Randall County tax office from a manual operation to a computerized operation is continuing on schedule, according to Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector.

Mrs. Bruse said her employees have put in several 11-hour days to ensure the conversion will be completed on time.

"We're pleasantly surprised at how fast our operators are getting information into the terminals," she said.

Mrs. Bruse said she hopes the conversion of her paper records to the computer records will be completed by early July.

The county has leased an on-line terminal which is connected with the West Texas State University computer center, where the computer will store and manipulate the tax office data.

Card Of Thanks

To all those sympathetic people I bothered Sunday afternoon regarding the whereabouts of my very pregnant pup, who disappeared before the storm. Thanks for your concern. A special thanks to my good neighbor, L. Joe Smith, who ripped out the floor of his tool shed (which is against our fence) Sunday night, in the cold, in time to save six of the litter of eight. Mother and babies are all doing fine, including the nearly frozen "runt" that needed a bit of "dropper feeding" to revive. My children, Chris and Kim, to whom "Santa" brought our mama dog Christmas 1971, join me in thanking you.
Marcia Durden

We wish to thank each and everyone of our dear neighbors and friends for all the kindness shown us in the passing of our loved one.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

relating to the establishment of the Randall County Juvenile Board and the juvenile probation department; maintaining in office those persons serving as juvenile officers on the effective date of this Act; and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. The Juvenile Board of Randall County is created, and is composed of the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Randall County and the county judge.

Section 2. The Juvenile Board shall create the Juvenile Court and shall appoint the Judge of the Juvenile Court, who shall serve as the chairman of the Juvenile Board and shall be its chief administrative officer.

Section 3. There shall be one chief probation officer who shall be appointed by the Juvenile Board. The chief probation officer shall appoint a sufficient number of assistants and other employees to carry on the professional, clerical, and other work of the juvenile court, subject to the approval of the Juvenile Board.

Section 4. The Juvenile Board is authorized, with the advice and consent of the commissioners court, to employ and designate the titles and fix the salaries of probation officers and such administrative, supervisory, stenographic, clerical, and other personnel as may be necessary.

Section 5. The Juvenile Board shall have direction and control over all juvenile officers and may make rules and regulations to implement that direction and control.

Section 6. The Juvenile Board shall have authority to require and approve a good and sufficient surety or personal bond for the faithful performance of duty of any juvenile officer, in such sum as may be determined by the board.

Section 7. Probation officers shall be furnished transportation, or alternatively, shall be entitled to an automobile allowance for use of personal automobile on official business, under the same terms and conditions as is provided for sheriffs.

Section 8. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to affect the status of a person serving as juvenile officer or assistant juvenile officer on the effective date of this Act or to require a new appointment of the officers during their current terms of office.

Section 9. For the added duties hereby imposed on the members of the board, the commissioners court of the county may allow the members of the board compensation from the county general fund. This compensation shall be in addition to any other salary received by the members of the board.

Section 10. The importance of this legislation and the crowded condition of the calendars in both houses create an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the Constitutional Rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and this Rule is hereby suspended, and that this Act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Commissioners have talked about using the money to help finance a civic center complex in Canyon.

Loudder said the city could receive $104,000 this year in federal money.

Having been previously involved with Big Brothers in Amarillo, Wooldridge believes the organization provides for fatherless boys an adult relationship which is essential to their development.

The program is open to boys from ages 7 or 8 to about 14.

Wooldridge said although he has not formally opened his Canyon office, referrals or potential big brothers can begin calling his office number to receive information and to set up future appointments.

The number is 655-4111.

Board members also continued discussion of hospital furnishings, particularly in terms of fixtures for patient rooms.

Sternenberg reported on a recent trip he, Grimes, Dr. Ed Low, and a Neblett Hospital nurse took to Indiana to view a furniture system for patient care.

Called the Hill-Rom Enviro-Care system, the unit provides a flexible lighting and drawer system for each patient in one self-contained unit.

Sternenberg, who said the price of each unit would be anywhere from $40 to $80 more expensive than for regular room equipment, favored the inclusion of the units in the new hospital.

The unit bolts on the wall in a hospital room and provides every patient need. Wiring for the unit comes through the ceiling in the room rather than through the wall, an advantage according to Sternenberg.

Board members also discussed the pros and cons of using carpeting in certain areas of the new hospital.

Sternenberg showed members several types of carpeting, but they agreed they would like to talk with employees of other hospitals which have carpeting to see about maintenance and wearability.

Board members also canvassed last Saturday's election and welcomed newly-elected member George Blackwell, who voters chose over O. H. Rahlfs.

Prices . . .

pared to 1972 due to the low prices being paid for pork, Dillard said.

Coupled with increased feeding costs, the limited production during that period has caused prices to increase rapidly.

Dillard predicted it may be awhile before beef and pork prices go down any appreciable amount.

He noted that it takes about two years to prepare beef for the kitchen table.

Although more feed grain will probably be harvested this year, the effects of a lower price for grain will not be felt for some time, he said.

"Pork prices might drop substantially in the next few months," he said, "but beef prices probably won't fall substantially unless the boycott has lasting effects."

WTSU Club Aids In Student Tutoring

A handful of West Texas State University students are taking their majors seriously and are applying some of their college classroom theory to situations in other classrooms.

About 20 members of the WTSU Sociology Club are working with teachers at Rex Reeves and Gene Howe Elementary Schools in an effort to aid young students who need extra help or special attention in their coursework.

George Howell, president of the WTSU club, said 13 club members are working with students at Rex Reeves and seven are working with students at Gene Howe School.

The club adopted the tutoring program as a project earlier this spring and the students began helping teachers in late March.

Howell said the project gives the WTSU students a chance to work in the community and thereby get an early start on some essential training for their vocations.

Club sponsor Dr. Ross Staton, associate professor of social work at WTSU, said the experience gained through the club's project is valuable to the overall education of the sociology or social work major.

"The social work students need to have experiences outside the classroom," he said. "There are several reasons for us getting the students involved in activities like this one."

One reason is to help bridge the gap between university and community by providing a service which the university is able to and should supply.

Another reason is to introduce WT students majoring in sociology and social work to the community and thereby enhance their classroom theoretical educations.

"When the students come back to the classroom it makes their learning more meaningful to them," he said.

Another reason for the service approach of the sociology club in its project is to make the club and the students more other-oriented.

Rather than providing speakers and entertainment for members only, the sociology club members told Staton earlier this year they wanted to become involved in projects which would be helpful to others.

The two schools can benefit from the club's project because with the 20 extra helpers, students with learning problems can be approached on a one-to-one basis and their problems can be handled individually under a teacher's supervision.

"I think and hope the kids can benefit from it," Dr. Staton said, "if for no other reason than the attention of another human being."

In essence, Dr. Staton said, the sociology club students who are participating in the tutoring project are acting in roles as social workers.

In addition to the sociology club members, Howell said members of El Chicano have also volunteered their time to aid students with problems with the English language.

Most students involved in the tutoring project devote two or three afternoons per week with each afternoon consisting of a minimum of two hours in helping teachers with students.

Elva Vasquez, a freshman at WTSU, worked with a young first grader early Tuesday afternoon at Rex Reeves School.

Sitting at a small desk covered with books, Miss Vasquez and the boy went over a morning reading lesson.

The youngster had had trouble earlier in the day reading particular parts of the reading lesson and Miss Vasquez' supervisory teacher, Mrs. E.R. Reeves, conferred with Miss Vasquez before the afternoon session about what she was to cover with the boy and how to approach it.

In the Tuesday situation, Miss Vasquez simply acted as an extension of Mrs. Reeves, performing the one-to-one teaching and drilling Mrs. Reeves might perform if she had the time to devote to one student.

At Gene Howe School, several of the WTSU students are aiding teachers by acting as trouble-shooters during class periods.

The students will, for example, help any student in the class who is having trouble with a particular lesson during the afternoon.

For Miss Vasquez, the project is definitely worthwhile.

She got into the project because "I like to work with children and meet the public and I had my afternoons off and I thought I'd do something constructive."

She feels some children demand more personal attention than others in the learning process and she feels she fulfills a need for these children.

Mrs. Reeves is also pleased with the project and its potential.

"I'm letting her (Miss Vasquez) take the children who need a little extra push," she said.

She said her helper can aid students with word recognition and comprehension and can reinforce number concepts.

"There are a lot of things I feel they can do to help a child who needs a little extra reinforcement," she said.

She said often it is good for a child who is having a problem to work with a different person in trying to solve the problem.

Rex Reeves principal Bob Parks said he feels the project is providing a definite help to his teachers and their students.

"From the teacher comments I've heard, I feel like it's a great help to them and the students," he said.

Gene Howe principal Luther Lawless agreed.

"From everything I see, it's real encouraging," he said.

Howell said he hopes the project can be perpetuated through next year and can evolve into a full semester tutoring program for the sociology club.

WT Professor To Moderate Law Day Program

Dr. Kenneth K. Keiser, associate professor of sociology at West Texas State University, will moderate a Law Observance Day program at Clarendon Junior College May 1.

Maj. C.W. Bell of the Department of Public Safety, Lubbock, will be the keynote speaker.

Others on the program include representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Texas Rangers, U.S. Immigration Service, Potter County Sheriff's Office and judges.

Keiser is assistant director of the criminal justice program at WTSU.

"Through such programs as the one at West Texas State and the Law Observance Day forum, the profession of law enforcement will continue to be upgraded," Keiser said.

He added the forum is open to the public and students interested in the criminal justice system and will begin at 10 a.m. in the auditorium at Clarendon College.

WT Tracksters In Tex. Relays

West Texas State University's track squad, seven strong, will compete Friday and Saturday in the Texas Relays at Austin.

Coach Bob Kitchens is taking a limited number of athletes because of the strength of the competition in Austin, but feels that the seven he is taking with him have chances to place.

Tracy Dickson, who ran a 9.5 last week at the Wichita State Relays, is an entry in the 100-yard dash. Cecil Hood, who leaped 6-8 during the indoor season, is entered in the high jump.

Dennis Briggs and freshman Marvin Self are discus entries. Briggs has a school record best of 183-10 this year. Self threw 181-7 in that same meet two weeks ago in Canyon.

Jim Hogan and Larry Lane are mile run entries. Hogan has run 4:18.4 this season and has a best of 4:11.9. Warren Snow, who has a best effort this spring of 15-0, is an entry in the pole vault.

The Buffaloes placed eighth in the Wichita Relays with 13 points. Dickson was third in the 100 with his 9.5 and Briggs placed third in the shot put to pace the Buffs.

Stranded . . .

charge of signing in the unexpected guests, did a great job of organization and he credited the students with performing a near-miracle in their being able to turn up blankets and other items.

"The kids got blankets from all over the area," Romig said. "It was nice to have a good warm place to sleep and I think they deserve recognition and credit for what they did," he added in regard to the students' efforts.

Dean Trice said all persons cared for expressed appreciation and he quoted one Oklahoma traveler as saying, "When I get back to Oklahoma City I'm going to recommend to students that they go to WTSU."

There was no charge to any of the persons who were cared for at the university.

About 20 persons spent the night in Randall County's courthouse, a handful of them finding lodging in the second-story jail itself and another group sleeping in beds available in the courthouse for juries.

Sheriff's Deputy Crosby Hammons said the 20 persons were found marooned in the blizzard by highway patrolmen and other deputies and many were brought to the courthouse from their stranded cars.

Three years ago, a snow-driven blizzard stranded motorists in the early spring on roads around Canyon, and the courthouse and the city hall annex were turned into temporary dormitories for the marooned travelers.

Canyon motels also reported that they were swamped with guests because of the storm.

One operator said his establishment was not filled due to three or four persons apparently not being able to get there.

Another motel man said he turned down from 15 to 20 persons after his rooms were filled.

And another reported that one motel guest went to Amarillo after checking in and was unable to get back to take advantage of his room.

From motel records, it appeared that many area residents, some living within six or eight miles of Canyon, found it advisable to spend the night in town rather than risk a trip home.

By late Sunday, most of the travelers were out of Canyon and on the way to their destinations but one motel reported that one family stayed over for the weekend due to road conditions leading into Colorado.

County Agent John Brazzil described the blizzard of Saturday night as "tough while it lasted" but he added that its short duration prevented any major problems for Randall County farmers and cattlemen.

"We were concerned during the snow and wind but by Sunday everything looked pretty good," Brazzil said. "There were no unusual conditions...such as cattle drifting or straying. . .but there was quite a bit of shrinkage."

Brazzil said the shrinkage was caused by cattle "being off their feed" for a time during the blizzard.

The county agriculture officer said that even the wheat crop apparently escaped major damage, mainly because the crop has not yet reached the flowering stage.

"When wheat gets into the flowering stage it can be damaged by days in a row of temperatures getting down into the 20s," said Brazzil. "It was still a bit early for us and our wheat is still in good condition."

The biggest problem encountered by Randall County farmers and cattlemen was just in getting out to tend to things, according to Brazzil.

Following the warmup found at mid-week, the temperatures are expected to remain in the 60s at least through Friday, with a cooling trend for Saturday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Amarillo said there was a chance for showers during the coming weekend, but no major storms or weather changes are expected.

Winds will remain brisk, the weather bureau forecast indicated.

Teachers . . .

cited the present use of some volunteer work in the system and added that the women's offer placed the school in a good position to utilize "good talents."

Jacobs said the system would survey volunteer help needs and report back to the group. He said the libraries would probably receive top priority since the workload there seems to be quite heavy.

One of the first projects that might be undertaken by the volunteer group would be in assisting with screening of kindergarten students. According to Jacobs, this has been done in the past by Future Teacher Association students.

The women had advanced the idea of helping with the screening as one of their most likely first projects.

"It's great to have a group of people wanting to help," said Dr. Moore.

Regarding the school system's Language and Learning Disabilities program, Dr. Burwell Southern told the board of the necessity of the special project, citing the possibility that the day may come when the school system will have to support it financially. At present, funding is handled by the state.

Mrs. Betty Brown and Mrs. Jean Galloway of the school's business education department reported to the board on the status of their equipment and number of students.

Each instructor listed needs for the department but, except for a lack of electrical outlets in one classroom and the age of some typewriters, both voiced satisfaction with teaching conditions.

The board approved a bid from Orkin Exterminating Company of Amarillo in the amount of $1,260 to rid Rex Reeves Elementary School of termites recently found at work in the older portion of the building.

Also approved with the bid for original eradication was a yearly payment of $150 to cover annual inspection and bonded guarantee.

According to officials, damage to date has been small, possibly no more than $50 to $100.

The highest of three bids submitted was for $1,900.

Members of the board also voted not to allow an increase in the price now being paid for meat used in the school's cafeterias.

According to an investigation made by business manager Ray Schultz, meat suppliers to other area schools had not made similar price increase requests.

The board also noted that only five more school weeks remain to be covered by the current meat supply contract.

Also discussed was the possibility of permitting a $3,000 tax exemption for persons 65 years of age.

It was determined that the matter merited further investigation and possibly would be advantageous for the school system and the City of Canyon to adopt identical measures. This would be advisable, said Jacobs, due to the school tax and city tax being run through the computer system, and since both taxes were handled by the same assessor-collector office.

Allowing the exemption would result in the loss of an estimated $19,941.34 in school revenue.

Decisions regarding projects to be included in the budget for this year were also tabled for future study. Among those projects was construction of a new library facility for the high school.

After considerable debate, it was said that due to costs and lack of exact knowledge regarding future needs, the library projects would undoubtedly have to be put off indefinitely.

Before adjourning into executive session, the board agreed to hold future meetings at 8:30 p.m. since the next regular meeting on May 1 would come after daylight savings time goes into effect.

Araucanas, Mrs. Hinders said, have a different appearance from most chickens. Many have a distinctive top knot, while others have distinctive side-burns.

Coloration of the feathers is also unique and varied among the chickens.

In addition, Mrs. Hinders said the meat of the chickens will vary in color.

Her husband says the meat tastes a good deal like quail.

Variety Ring Meets Friday

The home of Mrs. Mae Johnson, 2009 2nd Ave., was the setting for a meeting of the Variety Ring on Friday, April 6.

During the business portion of the meeting, the club voted to donate $10 to the cancer drive. Members exchanged favorite recipes, secret pal gifts, and shared readings.

Those attending were Mrs. Daisy Neal, Thelma Burtz, John Jennings, Levi Cole, Eula B. Harding, Modena Barker, P. L. Titt, Jeannette Robbins, Jettrew Winters, K. E. Hines, Roxie Hammons, and Mrs. J. W. Dillingsley, a guest.

The group will meet again on Friday, April 13, in the home of Mrs. K. E. Hines.

Eagle Nine Runs Into Bullpen Woes

A scheduled District 1-AAA baseball game between the Canyon High School Eagles and Dumas was postponed Tuesday due to wet grounds.

In action Saturday, the Eagles ran into pitching troubles and dropped a 15-3 decision to Clovis.

Bill Moore started on the mound but developed a sore arm early in the game. He was replaced by Ronnie Hicks who found trouble finding the strike zone.

Other pitchers were involved in other school activities and due to the lack of bullpen backup, Hicks was forced to remain on the job despite his wildness.

The 17 walks issued in the second, third and fourth inning proved too much for the Eagles, who outhit the Clovis nine by a 10-3 margin.

In the error department, the Eagles topped Clovis two to one.

Another problem for Canyon came in the first inning when the Eagles whacked out three base hits but failed to dent the plate.

Clovis picked up two runs in the first inning, four in the second, three in the third, six in the fourth and were blanked in the fifth.

Canyon came across with one in the second inning and added a pair in the fourth. The game was called at the end of five innings.

Jimmy Ward picked up the only Eagle extra base blow when he doubled.

The Eagles travel to Levelland for a single game Friday.

Coach Sloan said at mid-week that the squad should be at full strength with the exception of one player.

Happy News

Happy Seniors, Faculty Honored With Banquet

By MARY NEAL HENRY

THANK YOU FOR the vote of confidence. I got one write-in vote for the school board. So did Ora Mary Sims. The incumbents, Lonnie Todd, Burl Sims, and Robert Lee were all re-elected. A total of 394 voted in this election. This is important. It is important that the people care and that they will voice their opinion.

DR. ROBINSON IS home. Anna Bee brought him home on Friday of last week. He is resting well.

OMA LEE LOWRY is in Neblett hospital in Canyon.

J.D. PAIR of Downey, Calif., is visiting in Amarillo. He got caught coming through in New Mexico in the blizzard. He is visiting Oma Hayes in Amarillo for a few days and will go on to Fort Worth to see his daughters. Uncle J. D. plans to fly back on Saturday.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it—an so do its readers.

HAS ANYONE FOUND Margie Schulte's senior ring? Margie is a 1973 senior at Happy and is very upset about the loss of this ring. She'd appreciate its return.

ANNIE WESLEY WAS hospitalized in Brownfield last week for the removal of a benign tumor on Tuesday.

LUTHER AIKENS IS at home now and is resting.

HELENE McFARLAND AND Willie Butler appeared on a television news station on Thursday of last week. Helene did an excellent job of proving that beef is a bargain. She figured the cost of tuna, pork and beef. Beef was only ¼ cents higher than the tuna per ounce. Pork was actually cheaper. Willie Butler proved that beef had gone up less percent than any other American commodity.

THE SUNNYHILL HOME Demonstration Club met on Thursday morning of last week at Bertie Culp's home. Bertie served delicious rolls and coffee. Barbara Danner called the meeting to order and each member answered roll call with, "My Greatest Bargain."

NEW OFFICERS FOR the coming year are: president, Helen Bryan; vice president, Gwynn Tucek; secretary and treasurer, Mary Wilhelm; council delegate, Leona Henry; and reporter, Lou Dougherty.

BARBARA DANNER WAS elected the Sunnyhill Woman of the Year. She will be honored at a tasting Tea in Canyon on May 14. Our next meeting will be May 3 at Leona Henry's, 600 14th St. in Canyon.

BECKY HALL PRESENTED the program, "The Art of Managing Money." This depends on one's own values. Those present were Barbara Danner, Leona Henry, Mary Jane Miller, Phyllis Bryan, Maurine Allison, Bertie Culp, Jorja Smith and Elmo, and myself.

THE AVERAGE INCOME of Randall County last year was $10,500. Here is the way we spent our money:

Food — 15-35 percent (This compares to other countries as less spent. Russia spends 50 percent of their income for food.)

Clothing and personal care — 5-15 percent

Shelter — 20-35 percent

Health and medical care — 3-10 per cent

Recreation and education — 4-10 percent

Transportation — 8-16 percent

Gift and donation — 2-13 percent

Savings — 3-15 percent

Other — 2-10 percent

YOU MAY FEEL that you paid more for food than that. Perhaps your grocery store expense was more, but only two-thirds of your grocery bill is food. Alcoholic beverages, (in some counties,) soft drinks, candy and chewing gum, household supplies, pet foods, tobacco products, drugs, cosmetics, paper plates, and similar luxuries comprise the balance of our grocery bills.

THE AMERICAN LEGION Auxiliary has chosen Mary Ann Sims and Rhonda Fellers to represent Happy at Girls' State this summer. Dana Cheek and Karen Hinton are the alternates.

THE AMERICAN LEGION has chosen Greg Looney to represent Happy at Boys' State. Bobby Moudy will be his alternate.

HAPPY HIGH SCHOOL Cowgirls won second in the District Volleyball Tournament. These girls were coached by Mrs. Mallie Sheets. Team members included Mary Ann Sims, Dana Cheek, Jana Wallace, Kay Spear, Gracie Herrera, Vicki Hamblen, Karen Hinton, Donna McDonald, Liz Baldarez, Shirleen Boston, Estella Flores, Gina Luker, and Marilyn Venhaus.

HAPPY JUNIOR HIGH Girls did win District in Volleyball. These girls are coached by Mrs. Sherry Walker. Team members include Gay Venhaus, Lisa Payne, Nancy White, Bonnie Briscoe, Becky Stubblefield, Linda Sanders, Susan SoRelle, Roberta Comache, Darlene McKelvey, Irma Garcia, Shereen Bassett, and Shannon Heil.

THE WAYSIDE ACCOUNTING Class met on Wednesday evening of last week at the Kilgore Center on the WT Campus. They toured the departments and received an explanation of the computers. Very Interesting!

GEORGE AND SARA Tirey recently attended a grain convention in San Antonio. They flew in just before the blizzard on Saturday evening. (Good timing.)

JIM TIREY STAYED with his grandparents, Ora Mary and Eugene Sims.

HELEN AND CARL Bryan were recently on a lengthy business trip. They were in Yuma, Ariz., and then in El Paso. From there, they traveled to Houston and then home. Rowdy Bryan spent this time with Irby and Jack Powell.

LOU DOUGHERTY, PHYLLIS Bryan and myself of the Sunnyhill Home Demonstration Club in Randall County were guests of the Swisher County Home Tour. This tour left from the courthouse in Tulia on Friday morning at 9 and visited several homes. We ate our sack lunches at the Childress Community. The Childress Home Demonstration Club served us coffee and tea and had extra food on hand for anyone who forgot the lunch. Handwork by members of Swisher County clubs were on display in each of our destinations. We visited the Roy Thompson home immediately after lunch and then the Dale Culwell home near Vigo. Other local people who were also on this trip were Alice Middleton, Mary Johnson, Ollie Nichols, Lavell Starkey, Patriel Parker, Hattie Bradley, Pat Sims, Billie Pearson, Nora McGavock, and Thelma Vaughan. We toured on the Calvary Church bus and Nora McGavock was our chauffeur. My lesson for the day was "stay close to the driver and you won't get left." We enjoyed the day!

VALERIE TIPPS, SHERRY Starkey, Debra Magness, Becky Via, Kevin Donnell, Wendy Sims and Ken Henry participated in the Clayton Tri-High School Rodeo over the weekend. (Or attempted to participate.) They all had to contend with the blizzard on Saturday afternoon. Valerie Tipps won the "Hard Luck Cowgirl" and received a bridle and bits for her efforts. Congratulations, Val!

DOT FOSTER'S SISTER and family, Laverne and Ida Gaylord and their Debbie and Dixie, visited the Dick Foster family over the weekend.

LISA PAYNE, BEVERLY Dowd, Karen Hinton, Debbie, Brenda and Cathy Parker, Linda Railsback, Marcus Vermeire and Shannon Wilhelm were presented in a piano recital on Sunday afternoon at the Vivian Wesley Auditorium. They are students of Renna Beth Barnard.

Chamber Fete This Morning

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce will host a breakfast for members and their guests this morning at the Canyon Community Center.

The breakfast begins at 6:45 a.m. and ends at 7:50 a.m.

No program is planned for the informal breakfast, but brief promotional speeches by John Childs will be presented touting Canyon tourism.

Two door prizes — of $15 and $25 — will be awarded to chamber members and their guests.

The breakfast is sponsored by West Texas State Bank and is free to all members and guests.

Theme of the breakfast is tourism.

MISS PEGGY BATES was honored with a bridal tea on Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bob Hargrave. We were met at the door (after we were already in) by Pat Hargrave. She agreed it was too cold to ring the bell and wait. Peggy looked lovely in her pink dress and corsage of assorted spring flowers. Wanda Bates, Mrs. Homer Bates (grandmother) and Pattie Johnson, sister of the future groom, were also in the receiving line. Each wore a corsage of assorted spring flowers. The Johnsons are from Mississippi and Mrs. Johnson was unable to attend the shower.

JANICE WALTON AND Kathy Leavitt registered guests. A large pink candle in a ring of sweet peas decorated the registration table.

REFRESHMENTS OF SHERBET punch and assorted cookies were served from a table of white centered with a bouquet of assorted spring flowers. Zane Finck, cousin of the bride-to-be, (Naomi's daughter) of Tulia, Jill White and Kathy Holland, Happy, and Mona Butler, Karen Locknana, Dana Redin, Nancy Hawkins, and Lanette Allison all of Wayland served during the tea.

THE WEATHER WAS so cold and damp outside, that everyone seemed to be especially enjoying the warmth and friendship of the afternoon. Sorry, but I was unable to obtain a hostess list. The "Happy" telephones weren't working Tuesday morning and no one was home Tuesday afternoon.

HAPPY JAYCEE-ETTES have had several called meetings to work on their scrapbook. They have planned a bake sale for the Saturday preceding Easter Sunday.

4-H ADULT LEADERS Association of Swisher County are sponsoring a dance at Tulia Bull Barn on April 14 from 9 to 1. Music will be furnished by the Maines Brothers. All proceeds will be donated to the State 4-H Educational Center to be located on Lake Brownwood. Each county is responsible for raising $2000.

CHARLOTTE WEAVERS WAS honored with a birthday party last week in her parents home, Alice and Bill Penn. Sandra and Billy Penn of Amarillo attended and Charlotte's family, Roman, Romana and Leslie, the Kenneth Weavers family, George Penn and his Debbie, Shirley and Brenda, Sue and Derrick Collins and Lena Belle Cabe. Many relatives and friends sent cards.

SENIORS OF '73 and the faculty of Happy schools were honored at a banquet at fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church by the Baptists on Monday night. Charlotte Weavers welcomed the group. President Mark Hargrave responded to the welcome. Brother Paul Heil gave the invocation. The group was "entertained" (one's own opinion) by Baptist parents of seniors. A new "blonde" in town gave the skit a lift. These were the notorious "performers": Joyce and Dick Railsback, Joan and Reed McDonald, Joline and Robert Lee, Peggy and Doug Bell; Jo and Fay Hand; Billie and Wayne Pearson, Evelyn Dowd, Joyce Patching, Camma Lou Tackitt, Betty and Lee Donnell, Evelyn and Rayford Shipman, and Tom and me. Gui Faye Via gave a monologue, "My First Football Game." Mildred Devin was the producer. Brother Paul closed with a serious thought (after some more humor). The kids did enjoy him, too!

THE HAPPY ARTISTS Club met on Friday evening of last week. Curley Selvidge presented a program on "Monochrome Wash." Present were Mark Womack, Helene McFarland, Gay Fellers, Ernestine Danner, Joy Cox, Leona Henry, Peggy Bell, Kathy Moudy, and Curley Selvidge.

THE BAPTIST REVIVAL is May 6 through 13. The speaker will be Wayne Tucker of Houston and the music director, Ray Parker.

THE HAPPY COWBELLES met for a luncheon on Wednesday in the country home of Faye and Foster Parker. They have advertised beef in two papers, distributed beef cooking contest posters and entry blanks and other beef posters, written letters and cards to newspapers, TV and congressmen and distributed place mats advertising beef to local restaurants. They will have the beef wagon in Happy and Canyon soon. Watch for the dates.

OUR CHILDREN ARE entered in the Spearman High School Tri-State Rodeo this weekend. Think I'll see ya there!

SOMEONE ASKED ME how much snow we got last weekend. I told them, I didn't know. All ours went sideways and I didn't know where it "fell."

See ya!

Passing Still Question For Coach Mayfield

West Texas State University's Buffaloes are in their third week of football spring drills and the coaching staff is pleased with the results of the practice to date.

In their first scrimmage session of the spring Saturday, the Buffaloes were able to move the football offensively from both the I and Wishbone formations.

"The running game has progressed, but we still don't know about the passing phase of our offense," said head coach Gene Mayfield after watching his charges play Saturday.

Cold weather and high winds prevented the Buffaloes from throwing the ball as much as they would have liked and that same cold has hindered the passing during other practice sessions.

Bob Sweat, who started at quarterback for the winning Maroon team (made up of the first and second offensive and defensive teams), completed six of 11 passes for three touchdowns. Two of the scoring throws went to wingback Mickey Matthews, a freshman from Andrews. The other scoring pass was to veteran tight end Merced Solis.

Freshman Rick Schleider led all of the ball carriers with 105 yards. Jimmy Lisle, playing on the White team, picked up 91 yards in 20 carries and scored twice in a 42-12 Maroon win.

Only two players suffered injuries Saturday that were serious enough to slow them in this week's practices. Linebacker Kurt Kinsinger turned an ankle and halfback Max Guydon suffered a bruised muscle. Starting defensive tackle Larry Wiens injured a knee, but it proved to not be serious.

With better weather predicted for this week, the Buffalo coaching staff will again work hard on the throwing game. Sweat, veteran Mike Wartes and junior college transfer Don Nava are all showing flashes of throwing the ball with accuracy.

The Buffaloes will scrimmage again at 1 p.m. Saturday in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium before taking a week break for the spring vacation. They will take up practice sessions April 23 and have their final spring game at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 28, in Hereford.

Lindsey Promoted To Lt. Colonel

Bob Lindsey of Lindsey Land & Cattle Co. was officially promoted Saturday night to lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Reserves.

Lindsey, who is assigned as an instructor in the 4166th Lubbock USAR School, has a date of rank of Sept. 15, 1972, but his promotion was postponed by a Presidential freeze on promotions.

Lindsey has been in the Army reserves since being commissioned a second lieutenant in 1951 at New Mexico Military Institute.

During the Korean Conflict he was a tank company commander and served 21 months on active duty.

Since that time, he has attended the intelligence officer advanced course, the command and general staff college course and the industrial college of the armed forces course.

He is currently an instructor in the Lubbock school's command and general staff college course.

Lindsey said he plans to remain in the reserves until 1979 when he must retire, or if he achieves the rank of colonel, until 1984.

News Brief

Plans for Founder's Day on April 28 were made at a meeting held Tuesday, April 3, by Xi Kappa Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Betty Hunter was hostess.

The sorority will celebrate their Founder's Day with a banquet at Sutphen's in Amarillo with two other chapters, Chi Epsilon and Alpha Zeta Delta.

The Canyon High School dairy judging team made up of, front row, David Hinders, Steve Ross and Wade Wilhelm, and back row, Mike Kelly, won first place in district judging held at West Texas State University Saturday. The team also placed second in overall competition. Their instructor is Jim Walker.

April Fool Is Theme Of Decor

Members of Alpha Epsilon Chi of Beta Sigma Phi were entertained in the home of Mrs. Jim Johnson, McCormick Road, Wednesday evening, April 4.

Guests were surprised to find the house decorated with all types of holiday and party decorations including Christmas, Halloween, Thanksgiving, Easter, Valentine, New Years, birthday and graduation as a means of celebrating April Fool's Day.

In a business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Billy Fred Lacy, results of the recent election of chapter officers for the coming year were given. They are Mrs. Danny Whitaker, president; Mrs. Jerry Snyder, vice-president; Mrs. Jim Johnson, recording secretary and City Council alternate; Mrs. Harry Rowley, corresponding secretary and extension officer; and Donna Rogers, treasurer.

Mrs. W. N. Elam presented a program on literature with members reading selections of poetry and discussing their favorite novels.

Members attending were Mmes. Clive Blackwell, Jack Cage, W. N. Elam, Billy Fred Lacy, Jerry Lane, Don McCartor, Harry Rowley, Jerry Snyder and Danny Whitaker. Attending as guests were Mmes. Elmer Hanson and Steve Williams and Misses Pat Beck, Bonnie Morris, Shirley Robertson and Sharon White.

The next meeting will be held on April 18 in the home of Mrs. Jerry Lane at 1544 Parr. The program on "Art" will be given by Mrs. Jack Cage and Mrs. Danny Whitaker.

WT Geologist To Talk Libya At Texas Tech

It's a long way from the Texas Panhandle to the shores of Tripoli, but for at least one afternoon the two areas will be brought together at Texas Tech University in the final lecture of the "Faraway Places" series sponsored by the University's International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies.

Dr. James Underwood of the geology faculty at West Texas State University will discuss "The Libyan Arab Republic in the 1970's" at 4 p.m. today in The Museum of Texas Tech University. The slide lecture is open to the public without charge.

Underwood spent the two years of 1969-1971 as professor of geology at the University of Tripoli, Libya. Living and working with the people gave him the opportunity to know the Libyans and their country and to collect numerous experiences and photographs which are shared in his lecture.

No stranger to the Arab nations, Underwood was at one time a member of a cooperative program between the University of Texas at Austin and the University of Bagdad, Iraq. His broad background with Arabian nations and peoples enhances his lecture.

The travelog has been prepared for the general public and is not technically oriented. Underwood will be prepared to answer technical questions the audience might have.

Underwood holds degrees in petroleum engineering and geology from the University of Texas at Austin.
